

SOCIETY IN RESTFUL MOOD

Calendar for Coming Week is Blank and Future Holds Little.

HALLOWEEN AFFORDS SOME EXCUSE

Week Just Closed Marked by a Number of Pleasant Affairs and Enjoyable Impromptus.

About "Stringing." The archery maid with a smile in her eye looked at the man with a soft sigh. "Please string it for me," she whispered low. "For I haven't the heart to 'string my own beau'."

The long list of Halloween frolics, of exclusive little luncheons and of all the things preliminary to them, that made last week look so promising, proved a false alarm after all, and this week's calendar indicates that society will have no need of its busy day sign for a while yet—at least not this week.

The announcement of a series of dances planned by a quartet of young men is by far the most promising bit of good news that has come to the waiting fashionables this fall. To be sure, four dancing parties distributed through a winter fall a long way short of providing for a season, but they will at least start something and the cheerful ones can not lose sight of the heavenly influence of four such functions as these promise to be.

Omaha women are making quite an enviable record as athletes and on several occasions have represented Omaha with honor in contests held away from home. The tendencies of the age are to build up the women and where formerly the short, sweet girls were looked upon with the most favor, times have changed and the taller, athletic sister is now regarded as the better type and all strive to get in that class. More women are engaging in athletics than ever before, and are taking up many forms of exercise formerly looked upon as belonging exclusively to the men. Many more played golf this season in Omaha than in any previous year and the number who boxed was quadrupled during the past season. A swimming instructor was engaged at the Raquette club and many of the women learned this useful and healthful exercise in the year just past. Horseback riding has been taken up by more than ever before, especially in the younger set, and quite a few recruits were added to the list of tennis players. Miss Kimball is entitled to great credit for keeping alive the interest in golf among the women at the Country club during the last season by her generosity in presenting the silver pitcher as a trophy for the best woman golfer, and it is hoped by all that some day will emulate the example set by Miss Kimball and do likewise next season. Some stimulant like this is good to keep up the interest. The prizes for October were won by Mrs. Redick and Mrs. Sprague.

Members of the younger society set and also some of the older members are anxiously awaiting for the skating season to open, as many parties are planned even this far ahead. Last season was given more to skating than any previous season in the history of Omaha, both ice and roller, and many inquiries are daily made regarding the opening of the Auditorium for the winter's skating. As soon as the implement show is over and the new floor can be placed in the big building erected by the people and for the people will be given over to roller skating between other attractions. The date of the opening is November 15. Many of the society women of the city took up roller skating as an exercise last winter and were quite persistent in the exercise, for the good which it would do.

Opening Ball at Metropolitan Club. Metropolitan hall presented a scene of gaiety Saturday night, the occasion being the opening ball of the Metropolitan club. Fair women and brave men gathered to do homage to Torpedoes in the initial dance of a series which will be given by this popular club during the winter months. The Metropolitan club has always been very popular, and this season twenty new members have been taken in from the younger set, which will add life to the dances.

The club had been especially prepared for the event; a canopy was hung to the curb and a few modest decorations helped to give color to the scene of beauty and revelry which was presented when the start was made with a grand march. In spite of the pouring rain, about sixty-five couples were present to help make the first ball a success.

Concealed behind a bank of palms on the stage Dimmick's full orchestra played a fine accompaniment to the dancers while they tripped the light fantastic through a program of thirteen numbers. The music was principally airs from the latest operas, this class of music being most popular with the dancers. "Babes in Toyland," "The Sho-Gun," "King Dodo" and other favorites being called forth.

Shortly after midnight the dancers rested while they did justice to a twelve-course supper which the caterer had prepared. The supper was prepared up to the standard set by the Metropolitan club on previous occasions and was an enjoyable part of the evening's entertainment.

The dance was voted a great success by all present and it was the consensus of opinion that it augured well for future balls to be given during the winter under the auspices of the club, which is in a most flourishing condition. The officers are: Julius Meyer, president; L. Heller, vice president; A. Mandelberg, secretary; Morris Meyer, treasurer, and George Seligson, stage director and chairman of the entertainment committee. The board of directors consists of H. Newman, Charles Kirschbraun, H. May, J. Dreifus, A. Moses, J. Klein and N. A. Spiesberger.

In celebration of her fourteenth birthday, Miss Gladys Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, entertained about forty young friends Wednesday evening between 7:30 and 10 o'clock at her home, 251 Sherman avenue. Lane, Hochstetler, Smith, Biddle, Kraton, Misses Myrtle Lane, Augusta Smith, McCauley, Haney, Newman, Fenton; Messrs. Simpson and White.

One of the most unique affairs that has yet been given at the high school was the Halloween party given by the Margaret Fuller society Friday afternoon, under the direction of a committee consisting of Mrs. Atkinson, Misses Bess Gould, Elizabeth Sweet, Frances Thompson, Margaret Riggs, Ruth Yoder and Jane Bellamy. The windows of one of the class rooms were darkened and the room lighted by alcohol flames, and when the company had assembled the society president, Miss Anna McCague, and the secretary, Miss Alice McCullough, were escorted to their places by ushers in phantasm gear. A program of original verses and prophecies was presented by witches and then each member was permitted to draw her fortune of her future from a pumpkin shell. At first these seemed blank papers, but after being burned the fortune was revealed inscribed on the charred remnant.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schaefer of 300 Poppleton avenue were surprised on Friday evening, October 27, by a large party, who took this means of reminding them of their twentieth anniversary. The crowd met at a convenient place at an order from the leader marched to the house, gained admittance, decorated the rooms with snail and made themselves at home before any of the occupants, who were upstairs, were aware. A general good time followed. Games and music were the order of the evening. Messrs. Forkel and Kleffman rendered several selections and Mr. Landstrom demonstrated his ability as a singer of "coon" songs. Refreshments were served, after which Mr. Freitag, with an appropriate speech, presented Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer a handsome hand painted luncheon set. A joint gift from those present. The party broke up at a late hour, all having had a jolly time. Those present were: Messrs. BALDUFF IS BRANCHING OUT
With Other Omaha Men Will Start a Wholesale Candy Business January 1.

Manufacturers are coming fast to Omaha, but the latest to be announced is an Omaha institution branching out. W. S. Balduff, who has maintained his catering and manufacturing establishment on Farnam street for years, has decided to enter more largely into the wholesale candy field. To that end he has formed a corporation known as the Balduff Pure Candy company, which will be entirely separate from the old institution. Several Omaha men will be interested with Mr. Balduff in this new enterprise, which will be quite an addition to the manufacturing center of Omaha.

The factory will be at 114-116 Farnam street and will engage in the manufacture of superior confections. Traveling men will be put on the road and a large force put to work right from the opening, the date of which will be January 1.

In speaking of the matter, Mr. Balduff said: "My old place was wholly inadequate for the manufacture of candies in sufficient quantities to make an extensive wholesale business pay, so with some associates I decided to enter the wholesale field and to open a new factory. The machinery will be of the newest pattern and everything will be new and first class. I have had a few men on the road from my old establishment, but the wholesale end will be turned over to the Balduff Pure Candy company."

MEDLAR BUILDING GOES HIGHER
New Structure—South Fourteenth—is to Be Four Stories in Height.

The I. A. Medlar company, publishers of the Hotel Reporter, has decided to add another story to the new building recently started on South Fourteenth. This will make it practically four stories, having a high basement. This move was brought about on account of the demand for room, the Jubilee Manufacturing company having taken a five-year lease on the second floor and half of the first for the manufacture of a patent self-heating and iron. The fact that the building was rented when scarcely started is a pointer for real estate owners.

What Sulphur Does
For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days, when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, until now, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide), and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafer.

They are small, chocolate-coated tablets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur of which Stuart's Calcium Wafer is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies, soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafer. In patients suffering from boils and pimples and even deep-seated carbuncles I have rapidly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafer is a proprietary article, and sold by druggists, and for that reason labored about many physicians, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and especially in all forms of skin disease, as this remedy."

At any rate, people who are tired of pills, cathartics and "colic" blood "purifiers" will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafer a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.
